

“Reforming the American Economy”

Come Join us at the next WDRC Meeting

Thursday, February 25, 2010

6:45 PM – 9:00 PM

Humanist Hall, 390 27th Street (between Telegraph and Broadway)

with featured guest speaker:

■ Richard Walker

Professor of Economic Geography, UC Berkeley

Professor Walker's research is focused on economic geography, regional development, capitalism and politics, cities and urbanism, resources and environment, California, class and race.

This will be a continuation of the discussion on Progressives and the Democratic Party that was begun at the January Club meeting.

Also featuring: A trailer of “Heist,” a work-in-progress documentary film on the economic crisis by Don Goldmacher

We have a special treat: a preview of a new film, "Heist," by Wellstone's own Don Goldmacher. As our economy unravels day by day, it is crucial to build a movement to take back our country and put the corporations in their place. But to do that, we must first understand how it all happened. Fortunately, "Heist" does just that. "Heist" tells the story of how the Right Wing and the corporate rulers orchestrated the greatest theft in history – the robbery of Americans' prosperity, savings, and retirement security. The film will point Americans to solutions based on a sustainable, green economy, re-regulation of our economy, the restoration of good paying union jobs, and a fair trade policy for the 21st century.

Your Help is needed: We ask that you bring your checkbook or a check made out to Center for Media Change, a tax-deductible non-profit organization, to help finish the editing of the film. The finished version of "Heist" will be shown on the web, and given to labor unions, community organizations and social justice organizations to help organize the mass social movement that we so desperately need."
